

Certified ISO 9001

March 10, 2004

The State Police in Pennsylvania have more information than we have on this issue and they should be contacted directly. However, our records show that we have thousands of this radar gun model in use throughout the US and the rest of the World including those in Pennsylvania and they are functioning properly. We have no other complaints of this nature expressed in the newspaper article originating there.